

The British Orthopaedic Association Congress

Liverpool, 17 - 19 September 2008

This year's British Orthopaedic association (BOA) meeting took place in Liverpool from 17th – 19th September. Our stand was well situated and received a great deal of interest. We are delighted that our increased collaboration with the BOA and particularly BOTA, the trainee body of the Association has been so effective in increasing awareness of our research and educational activities.

On the Thursday evening, in memory of Ronald Furlong, our Founder, we once again hosted the Furlong Dinner to thank those scientists and surgeons who have shown such an interest in our work, and given their valuable time to advice and lecture on our behalf.
